Strong Technical Leadership

At Aphix we have a team of 17 including a very passionate and talented web, app and front end developers across three teams. We have a no bull, open and direct culture lead from the top that encourages technical excellence and innovation.

Graham O'Rourke, CEO

Graham holds an Engineering degree from Dublin City University. He has led global product development teams in delivering enterprise software to the Banking, Telecommunications and Digital sectors.
For fun, Graham volunteers with CoderDojo.

Mark Reilly, CTO

Mark is the architect of the scalable Aphix platform.
Mark has been coding commercially since the age of 15 delivering web applications at scale for some of Ireland and the UK's best known companies.
When Mark is not coding he's asleep or at the movies!
